Learn from the experts! ASGE Masterclass: ERCP will highlight initial trends in ERCP use as a procedure of choice over the past two decades to address a host of pancreaticobiliary disorders including choledocholithiasis, cholangitis, cholecystitis, acute pancreatitis, benign and malignant biliary strictures, leaks and fistulae, and management of various surgical complications. Expert faculty will specifically review cannulation methods, sphincterotomy techniques, management of difficult bile duct stones, and strategic management of challenging drainage procedures.

Don't miss discussions on management of complex hilar strictures, as well as ERCP in surgically altered anatomy, with cases demonstrating a variety of tips and tricks to managing these challenging patients successfully. Management of adverse events in ERCP as well as the topic of disposable duodenoscopes and scope reprocessing will also be reviewed.
