IMPROVING QUALITY AND SAFETY IN YOUR ENDOSCOPY UNIT

MAY 5, 2017 | NEW ORLEANS, LA

SEPTEMBER 9, 2017* | BALTIMORE, MD

NOVEMBER 17, 2017 | DOWNERS GROVE, IL

*Held in conjunction with GI Practice Management 101, which takes place on September 8, 2017

Held in conjunction with ASGE's Practice Management Trifecta. For more information, visit www.asge.org/trifecta

ASGE has developed this course to educate physician and non-physician unit staff on how to translate quality concepts into practice at their endoscopy unit. The content of the course is dynamic, addressing the fundamentals of quality and safe practice as well as emerging trends and evidence. In addition to advancing their knowledge in endoscopy unit quality and safety, participants in this course will be prepared to apply for the ASGE Endoscopy Unit Recognition Program (EURP) or renew their current participation.

Learning Objectives

Upon completion of this educational event, participants will be able to:

- Identify ways to define and measure quality in endoscopy
- Employ techniques to make endoscopy more efficient while maintaining safety
- Utilize methods to improve patient satisfaction in endoscopy, including improved doctor-patient communication
- Recognize and avoid potential sources of infection, such as the various body fluids of patients undergoing gastrointestinal endoscopy and the disinfectants used before, during and after any endoscopic procedure
- Determine measures to improve unit quality, including training and credentialing for new procedures, quality assurance programs, sedation and monitoring, and unit accreditation and re-accreditation

Who Should Attend

- Practicing gastrointestinal endoscopists and surgeons
- Medical directors
- Nurse managers
- Unit managers
- Allied professionals interested in advancing their knowledge in endoscopy unit quality and safety

Units interested in applying to the ASGE Endoscopy Unit Recognition Program or renewing their ASGE Endoscopy Unit Recognition Certificate are encouraged to send both a physician and non-physician manager to the course. Program eligibility criteria require completion of this course by at least one unit representative within one year of the program application for new units and prior to expiration for renewing units.

This course qualifies for ASGE's Recognition of Excellence in GI Practice Management program.
