

American Society for Gastrointestinal Endoscopy International Pairing Program Application

Instructions:

Fill out, sign and print this document and follow the following steps:

- 1 Submit 1-2 page statement of learning objectives for the observership/hands-on training, including the name of the desired institution(s) and ASGE International Member/Mentor, purpose and expectations of this observership/hands-on training program, and importance to the applicant's career development;
- 2 Submit Curriculum Vitae (CV) including current position;
- 3 Submit a letter of recommendation and release from your current Chief of Service;
- 4 Scan all documents as one (1) PDF document and email to hbecker@asge.org.

1. Are you currently a GI endoscopy fellow? Yes No
2. If yes, how many years until you complete your training?
3. Have you completed basic GI endoscopy training? Yes No
4. When did you complete basic GI endoscopy training?
5. Are you proficient in the English language? Yes No
6. How much time do you have to participate in the program?
7. What are your anticipated dates of training?
8. What is the nature of experience you desire?
9. List your prior endoscopic training including number of upper endoscopies, colonoscopies, and advanced endoscopic procedures performed thus far.

10. Place a check mark next to the institution(s) you are applying for:

- Asian Institute of Gastroenterology – Hyderabad, India
- Cancer Institute of University of São Paulo—Sao Paulo, Brazil
- Clínica de Gastroenterología "Prof. Henry Cohen" Universidad de la República—Montevideo, Uruguay
- Digestive Disease Center, Showa University Northern Yokohama Hospital – Kanagawa, Japan
- Ecuadorian Institute of Digestive Diseases (IECED) and Latin American Pentax Training Center Ecuador, WEO Outreach Center – Guayaquil, Ecuador
- Interventional Endoscopy Center University Hospital of Mainz – Mainz, Germany
- Institute of Gastrosiences, Apollo Gleneagles Hospital –Kolkata, India
- Jichi Medical University – Tochigi, Japan
- Jikei Medical University – Tokyo, Japan
- Keio University, School of Medicine – Tokyo, Japan
- Lyell McEwin Hospital and the University of Adelaide—Adelaide, Australia
- Medical College of Wisconsin – Milwaukee, Wisconsin, USA
- Mayo Clinic – Rochester, Minnesota, USA
- National Cancer Center Hospital – Tokyo, Japan
- Nottingham Digestive Diseases Centre & NIHR Biomedical Research Unit – Nottingham, UK
- Osaka International Cancer Institute Hospital – Osaka, Japan
- Showa University Koto Toyosu Hospital – Tokyo, Japan
- Theodor Bilharz Research Institute – Giza, Egypt
- The Royal London Hospital Barts Health NHS Trust—London, UK
- The University of Tokyo Hospital – Tokyo, Japan

11. What are your future career plans: academics or private practice?

12. If I am selected as an International Pairing Program recipient I release and hold ASGE harmless from and against any claims, liabilities or expenses arising from my participation in the program.

Acknowledged and Agreed

By: _____
Signature

Date: _____